Storm Drain Millage Vote Anticipated

A swift timetable leading to a November vote on millage for improvements in the city's storm sewer system was announced by council Wednesday.

The city manager said engineers Moore & Bruggink of Grand Rapids proposed storm sewers in 32nd St. west of Central Ave. leading to Azalea Ave. and Lake Macatawa and sewers from the area of 32nd St. and the US-31 bypass north to Lincoln Ave. and then to Chicago Dr. to alleviate flooding conditions in the southern areas of the city and the industrial park area.

City manager William Bopf said the projects were within the $1 million to $1.5 million limit suggested by council and that it might require a public vote on a one mill or two mill tax levy for 10 years in addition to other financial sources.

Bopf said the engineers considered the Central Ave. and 32nd St. storm drain as a priority project. He said hiring of a bonding attorney would be recommended at the Aug. 16 council meeting to pave the way for a millage issue to be placed on the November election ballot.

The De Pree Co. was granted a revocable license to construct a brick facing to the east side of the former Holland Motor Express office building along Central Ave. north of Fifth St. and to enclose an overhang, both of which were in the public right of way.

A request to rezone a 14 acre parcel of land along Montrose Dr. north of East 40th St. from agriculture to A3 residential to allow for construction of apartments was received as information.

The State Liquor Control Commission informed council that a beer and wine takeout license for the VFW had been denied.

Revisions in paving of Mohawk Dr. and Shoshone Walk were approved by council.

A gift of $10 for Herrick Public Library was received with thanks from Dr. and Mrs. Frank Dykema and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dykema in the memory of Mrs. Dick Boter and a magazine subscription for large-print Readers Digest was received with thanks from the Women's Auxiliary to the West Michigan Optometric Association.

All the councilmen and the mayor were present for the meeting which lasted 2½ hours and was opened with prayer by Everett Vanden Brink.

Fake Agent Bilks Man Of $200

A well dressed man in his late 30s posing as a federal Treasury agent bilked a Holland resident this morning of $200 in a scheme to check for counterfeit bills, Holland police said.

Officers said the man had approached the resident at his home and asked to see paper money. Police said the "agent" told the resident he wanted to take the bills to a bank for a comparison and vanished with the money.

Police urged residents against believing persons posing as federal agents who make contact by themselves. Officers said any legitimate agent investigating in Holland would be in contact with police and if any house-to-house contacts are to be made the federal agent would be accompanied by a uniformed Holland officer.

Salaries of Mayor, Councilmen Face Study by Group

Salaries for Holland councilmen and the mayor will be studied under a request from Mayor L. W. Lamb Jr. to city manager William Bopf.

Mayor Lamb, citing state laws which allow commissions to study compensation for council members, directed the city manager to draft an ordinance setting up a wage commission to study council salaries.

The mayor said a survey of salaries of councilmen paid in cities of Holland's size showed Holland councilmen near the bottom of the scale.

Mayor Lamb said in some cases local councilmen are not reimbursed by their employers for time spent away from their jobs to attend meetings of council members.

Council adopted the mayor's recommendation that a commission be established to study wages paid councilmen and the mayor.

Councilmen now are paid $5 for each regular council meeting they attend with a yearly maximum of $160. The mayor receives the same salary plus a $100 stipend.

The Board of Appeals met Thursday night in City Hall and acted on seven requests for variances.

The Board denied permission to Breuker and Den Bleyker, Inc. to convert an existing one-family dwelling at 556 East 24th St. into a two-family dwelling. Conversion of existing dwelling buildings to additional dwelling units is not permitted on this district which is zoned D-1.

Vernon De Pree, 32 East 29th St., was denied his request to build an addition to the front of the existing attached garage. This is the second time De Pree submitted this request. The garage is five feet from the west property line and the addition would also be five feet from the line whereas no sideyard should be less than seven feet.

The Board approved a request submitted by Lokker Rutgers Co., 35 East Eighth St. to construct an addition to the rear of its building. The addition will be about two feet of the rear property instead of the 12 feet required setback.

Edward Dykema was denied a variance by the Board to construct a single family dwelling on the northeast corner of 21st St. and Cleveland Ave. The lot is one foot short of the 60 feet wide requirement.

Bobbie and Esther King, 377 West 21st St. were denied a variance to construct a one-family dwelling on property 50 feet wide with a lot area of 6,600 square feet instead of the required 60 feet width and an area of 7,200 square feet.

Sign Contract For Water Sale

A contract providing for sale of municipal water to Park Township hailed by city officials as "a significant milestone in the growing atmosphere of area cooperation" was signed today in the Mayor's office of city hall.

The contract provides for the bulk sale of water to the Ottawa County Road Commission for retail sale to customers in the Waukazo area. The bulk water will be sold for $286.72 per one million gallons.

The city's municipal water transmission line running along Ottawa Beach Rd. will be tapped at 160th Ave. and 152nd Ave., providing a loop for the Waukazo area.

Park Township and the county road commission are to decide on construction and financing of water mains and metering and billing for water services.

City officials said it was hoped the contract will be the forerunner for subsequent contracts which will provide further area service for the benefit of the entire community.

City officials cited the contract as "evidence that artificial jurisdictional boundaries will give way to the common heritage, community welfare and ecological concerns."

Jay Van Wieren, Park Township supervisor, said the township is to finalize cost estimates at a board meeting tonight in preparation for a public hearing this month for residents of the water district.

Van Wieren said there was a potential of 400 customers in the Waukazo area now. A bonding issue through the county road commission will pay for the water main construction and a metering station at 160th Ave. and Perry St. Construction was hoped to begin in early spring, Van Wieren said.

Regional Plan For Heights Area Unveiled

A proposed regional plan for the development of land generally northeast of 32nd St. and the US-31 bypass was submitted to City Council by the Planning Commission Wednesday.

It projects future development along 16th St. and in the Holland Heights area in light of an interchange east of the city limits for the I-196 expressway under construction.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt said he would like to see a non-profit organization such as the Holland Economic Development Corp. Later in the meeting, Peerbolt asked the city manager to meet with representatives of HEDCOR and the Planning Commission to explore the concept of obtaining lands for commercial development similar to the manner in which HEDCOR obtained land for the southside industrial park.

Ordinance On Signs Is Okayed

Holland council Wednesday night adopted a sign ordinance with amendments and decided existing permanent signs should conform to the ordinance by January 1, 1980. The action was taken following an hour long discussion.

The revisions concern signs in non conforming land uses, removal of developers' signs where a sub division was 75 per cent developed and set back requirements of temporary or real estate signs.

As originally presented to council, the existing non conforming signs would have had to conform within three years from the adoption of the ordinance but council voted five to four on a voice vote to require all signs to conform by 1980.

Roger Siroh, the Director of the Department of Environmental Health, under whose jurisdiction the sign ordinance falls, said townships surrounding Holland have been contacted about the city's ordinance with the hopes of the townships adopting similar sign codes.

A motion by Councilman Robert Dykstra, supported by councilman Al Kleis, that the sign ordinance issue be tabled was defeated on a seven to two vote.

By C. P. Dame

Everybody worships someone or something. We are created to worship God, that is, to attribute to Him by word and deed. Worshiping God enriches life.

I. Worship should be joyful. Psalm 122 is a pilgrim psalm, one of the 15. It was used by the pilgrims as they walked in groups to Jerusalem to worship there in the temple. Three times a year all male Jews were required to attend the feasts of Passover, Weeks (Pentecost) and Tabernacles. These trips were both religious and social, a blessing to the nation and joyful events. The story of Jesus in Luke 2:41-51 gives us a picture.

The writer of Psalm 122 describes his journey to Jerusalem. A group was organized to go to Jerusalem and he was glad he got the invitation to go along. When the pilgrims reached Jerusalem, their hearts were thrilled and as they saw the buildings, met people from all parts of the country, and worshiped they were made conscious of their covenant relationship to God, of their unity with other worshippers and of the laws God had given them.

"Pray for the peace of Jerusalem"—this request was important. The Psalmist saw the connection between the Temple and the city, and he was also interested in his fellow worshippers, his brethren and companions who would be blessed when Jerusalem would enjoy peace. Christians should be concerned about the welfare of the whole church.

II. Church attendance is required. A few verses from Hebrews 10 tell that even in the early church, members had to be reminded. Today some say that a person can be a good Christian and absent himself from the church. The Bible commands us to stir each other up, arouse each other, love and do good works; not to neglect church attendance, and to exhort each other and be prepared for the coming judgment. These three commands fit our age exactly.

Church attendance is declining. Indifference, secularism, being absorbed by worldliness, too many playthings, and the lust for pleasures and recreation draw some people away from God's house. Backsliding is too common. When people become more concerned about eternal realities they go to church and worship the triune God.

What causes us some uneasiness, however, is some of the devices contrived to raise money. There are the old gimmicks of "walking for cancer" or bike riding for something else, or rocking in rocking chairs for yet another cause. Young people get donations for their cause on the basis of how many miles they walk or ride on how many hours they rock.

What distresses us about this is the complete unproductivity of these activities and besides that the willingness of responsible adults to cooperate in these useless programs.

If there is money to be raised by activities of these kinds, one would think that there would be even more to be raised if the activities themselves were useful. Certainly there are old folk who need their lawns cut or their gardens weeded or their windows washed or their steps painted. Certainly there is much to be done in cleaning up highways and roads or in cutting weeds in certain parts of the city that at this time of the year make the town fairly unsightly.

We are all for raising money for good charitable causes, but we are even more for productive activities which do this. That would be killing two birds with one stone. We are enthusiastic about the energy and willingness of the young. We would be even more enthusiastic if this willingness and energy were channelled into productive activities.

STIRRING PERFORMANCE — Taking leading roles in "Man of La Mancha" which opened Tuesday night at the Red Barn Theatre were Bruce Hall as Don Quixote and Leta Anderson as Dulcinea.

They gave stirring performances in their roles and received thunderous applause from an appreciative audience. The play is to be repeated through Saturday, Aug. 12.

Audience Salutes Cast Of 'Man of La Mancha'

In one of the most moving and dramatic roles of his long and versatile career at the Red Barn Theatre, Bruce Hall created the character of "Man of La Mancha" for a first night audience at the Red Barn Tuesday night.

A perfect foil for his characterization was Leta Anderson as Aldonza or as Don Quixote chose to call her "Dulcinea" in a stirring portrayal of the coarse trollop turned gentle by her "Lord."

An epic stage set the scene in the Common Room of a Stone Prison Vault in the city of Seville, Spain, at the end of the 16th century and various places in the imagination of Miguel De Cervantes Hall as he tries to save his life and that of his faithful manservant Sancho Panza.

Cervantes presents the story of Don Quixote to his fellow prisoners in the jail during the Spanish Inquisition and by means of telling the story attempts to have his fellow prisoners judge him innocent. Sancho, the comic relief in the play is Michael Salvador, who is well cast in his role as he also acts as stage manager in directing various prisoners to assume the roles of muleteers, guards, dancers and horses during the show.

The most elaborate stage setting created by Richard Guenther would have received an ovation had it been behind a curtain, but since it was open as the audience entered the theatre, it received ohs and ahs of praise. All the changes in scene were made on stage electronically, including a disappearing staircase. The three-dimensional stone of the prison walls helped create the illusion of the prison while being used to tell the story of the play within the play.

James Dyas, who directed the entire production used excellent judgment in his selection of William Tost as the Padre, Don Bonevich as the Governor and Innkeeper, Norman Anderson as the Duke and Dr. Carrasco and Knight of the Mirrors. Steve Plunkett did a fine job as the barber and in several musical numbers.

Others in the well-balanced cast include Rick Salome as Pedro, one of the muleteers; Pete Mainguy as Jose; Dan Parker as Tenorio; Dave Cunningham as Paco; Allyn Winslow as Juan and Paul Richards as Anselmo.

Among the prisoners and taking roles in the play within the play were Sharon Dail Matia as Maria, the innkeeper's wife; Pamela Pettigrew as Fermina, a serving girl; Marie Austin as Housekeeper for Alonso and Charlene Perri, Richards, Salome and Mainguy as the Moorish dancers. Richards and Salome also performed as the horse and mule.

Minor roles were taken by Lorna Ozman, Barbara Bailey, Melissa Bailey, Kathy Dyas, Emmet Morlan, Chip Stites and Rich Rahn.

Musical director William Seebach and his assistant William Rowe with choreographer Rich Rahn brought the music of "Man of La Mancha" to new heights in the musical numbers "The Impossible Dream," "Man of La Mancha," "Dulcinea," "What Does He Want of Me," "I'm Only Thinking of Him," "Little Bird, Little Bird," and "Knight of the Woeful Countenance."

Bruce Hall in his triple role of Cervantes, Don Quixote and Alonso Quijana sings "The Impossible Dream" with deep feeling. Miss Anderson is magnificent in her solos.

A play of such epic proportions can only be as perfect as its cast makes it through some fine handling of narrative and music by its directors.

Hope Village Square Takes in $19,342.84

A fun-type and enthusiastic public auction closed the activities of the Hope College Village Square Friday evening. The auctioneer was Charles Shidler. According to Mrs. Harold Butler of Kalamazoo, Square treasurer, the auction income of $815 boosted the day's gross total to $19,342.84.

The Holland Chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants worked long into the evening to verify the final count. They had been counting and recording cash receipts from the various booths and Square events since 8 a.m.

The ideal weather again helped the cause of the Square workers. Only at the 13th annual Square was there rain. Thousands of people were ready to browse and buy early in the morning.

Wisconsin Chapter brought more bratwurst than ever before and sold out early in the afternoon. The International Booth brought in $2,220.97, a figure higher than previous years. This does not represent net profit, however, as this booth does have expenditure to purchase goods. The cultured pearl rings which had been appraised at $60 to $80 were a boost to sales.

Many people turned out for the Chicken Barbeque in the evening. Chairman Mrs. Kenneth Kleis reported 950 guests were served. Among the guests were State Rep. Melvin De Stigter and Riemer Van Til, both seeking election in the November race.

President and Mrs. Gordon Van Wylen enjoyed their first Village Square from the vantage point of their new residence on campus. Maintenance crews began setting up at 5 a.m. Tom Renner and the Rev. William Hillegonds of the college gave their services with publicity and announcements throughout the day.

A group of six girls, all of them juniors at Holland High School, provided interest and entertainment as costumed wandering minstrels. During the afternoon they played a lute and recorders and sang the lyrics which they had composed themselves.

The Detroit, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin groups had overnight accommodations on campus, arranged by Barry Werkman of Hope College. Mr. and Mrs. Vander Lugt hosted these groups in their home Thursday evening.

Some unsold booth items were sold at the auction. Other items were given by the women to the mission of the Reformed Church in Brewton, Ala. These articles will be delivered by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Meengs when they return to their station in Brewton after their summer visit to Michigan.

Square proceeds will be used for furnishings in the buildings at Hope College. Since 1940, the Women's League of Hope College have contributed $400,000 for this purpose.

The Holland Accountant group auditing receipts at this year's Hope Square were Esther Barham, Ann Brower, Geneva Janssen, Estella Karsten, Ruth Kronmeyer, Eva Neumann, Bonnie Stoll, Gertrude Van Spyker, Cecilia Ver Hage and Jean Volkers.

7 Students Receive NSF Fund Grants

Seven Hope College students are pursuing research this summer at the college's psychology department through an Undergraduate Research Participation grant from the National Science Foundation.

The $12,050 grant, one of only 19 funded nationally in psychology, is under the direction of Dr. James H. Reynierse, professor of psychology.

Mrs. Gretchen Straw, a June graduate who is a descendant of Holland's Kleis and Van Raalte families, is working with Dr. Reynierse investigating the effects of reward sequences and adjunctive behavior upon avoidance learning in rats. Her research has particular significance for the reducing of chronic fear and anxiety in humans. Mrs. Straw and her husband, Roger, a senior from Holland, are also working on sequential analyses of escape - avoidance learning in rats. In addition, Roger and Paul Bach, a junior from Sheboygan, Wisc., are examining various aspects of group interaction in small group discussions under the supervision of Dr. David Myers, associate professor of psychology and chairman of the department.

Two other Holland residents Daniel Bouwman, a senior and Thomas Siderius, a junior, are working with Dr. James Motliff, associate professor of psychology, in developing a broad program in psycho-pharmacology at Hope. The project involves the effects of chlorpromazine and amphetamine in primate and rodent behavior. Harold Modrow, a senior from Waukesha, Wisc. and Dr. Reynierse are examining the effects of drugs in facilitating the elimination of avoidance responses in rats. Because of the particular drugs being used, the research of all three students has potential application in psychotherapy with humans.

Lois Vancil, a June graduate from Pontiac, is working in the area of human, visual perception. Her work with Dr. Philip Van Eyl, associate professor of psychology, is concerned with perceptual defense and novelty thresholds. She will be attending graduate school in experimental psychology at the University of Texas in the fall where she anticipates continuing and extending this research.

Founding of Holland Observed at Services

The membership and friends of Third Reformed Church, Sunday celebrated the 125th Anniversary of the founding of Holland with special services. Dr. Elton J. Bruins, professor of Religion at Hope College presented an outstanding sermon entitled "Living With Vision."

Dr. Bruins in addition to his work at Hope College is an authority on the settlement and historical growth and development of Holland and also is in charge of the archives of the Netherlands Museum.

Using verse 18 of Proverbs 29 as his text "Where there is no vision the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he." (King James version.) Dr. Bruins related various events that happened in the Netherlands to give Dr. Van Raalte the vision that he had when he came to the United States, and did not settle elsewhere.

This vision began in 1840, when the people left the state church as they wanted more freedom to worship, as friction arose between the Van Raalte group and the government officials due to the ruling of no more than 20 persons could gather together at one time. The potato famine of the 1840's also was instrumental in the move because the people were without food and in modern terms on "welfare."

The formation of the colony idea instead of small groups was to allow for the continuation of the church growth in America, a feature that could not be accomplished in the East Indies, a Dutch holding that was being considered by the Van Raalte group before deciding on America.

The Van Raalte colony was the foundation of a God-centered community, a factor that has continued to the present day. With the vision before him Van Raalte in 1846 with his congregation came on the ship "Southern" to the shores of the United States. Seeing that his people were provided for, he ventured into the middle west, being directed by God to the wilderness around Black Lake now known as Lake Macatawa. He was followed the next two years by other church congregations who settled in Zeeland, Overisel, Graafschap and other places in Ottawa and North Allegan counties.

Ten years later the now historical "Pillar Church" was erected, a symbol to all who claim heritage to the Dutch. In the year 1848 the living conditions in the colony were desperate and all sacrificed, as death stung the colony taking away many leaders and workers as well as many young people and children. Food was scarce and there were rumors of returning to the homeland.

Dr. Bruins recalled how the church was the center of the political life of the colony and remained as such for many years after the organization of the city. He also stated and illustrated how Van Raalte was the center of all economic situations in the colony. Before coming to Michigan, Van Raalte had sold his brickyard possessions in the Netherlands to obtain money to make purchases in America. He also aided Isaac Cappon in establishing the first tannery in Holland which was the first industrial employer of any size. The Holland of today is the direct result of Van Raalte's economic insight.

Education was also a consideration in the migration, as well as church union. In 1848 the first classis was founded by Dr. Van Raalte and Dr. Vander Molen of Zeeland; in 1850 Van Raalte prevailed upon the local group to join the New York Classis. In 1851 the Pioneer School was organized, but later became the Pioneer Academy. As the public schools were governed by the colonists, the need for a Christian school was not felt at the time. Following the Academy, Hope College was organized in 1857, Van Vleck Hall erected (still on campus) and 1862 first class graduated from Hope College. In 1857, the differences of churches resulted in the Christian Reformed Church.

Dr. Bruins stated that the vision of Van Raalte gives perspective and the vision encourages. He advised that this vision be kept alive in the Holland community and that the members of Third Reformed Church share in the vision of their forefathers.

The following litany of Historical Commemoration was written by Dr. Bruins and read responsively by the congregation and minister.

Minister: O God, who art the Giver of every gift, thou didst grant the gift of vision to the founder of this city, Domine Van Raalte, and the gift of vision to his people who laid the foundations of this Country.

People: We truly acknowledge these gifts to be from thee, O God.

Minister: In thy mercy and grace, thy provident hand enabled thy children to receive abundance from the farms, success in business, pleasures from the parks and lakes, and joy in the building of a city.

People: We are pleased to acknowledge thy providence, good Lord.

Minister: In thy mercy and grace, thy provident hand enabled thy children to receive abundance from the farms, success in business, pleasures from the parks and lakes, and joy in the building of a city.

People: We humbly thank thee, O Lord.

Minister: Thou art also gracious in all thy goodness to the Colony: the gift of public administration of our city and the work of many mayors and councilmen who served faithfully through the years; the gift of educational institutions: Western Theological Seminary and its training of leadership for the church; Hope College and its education of the youth for more than 100 years; the public and private schools, the administration and faculty who with Christian devotion provided the educational opportunities to the children and youth of our community.

People: We gratefully acknowledge these gifts, O Lord.

Minister: For all people of our city who were faithful and industrious, who with great devotion and effort established the businesses, gave time in public service, lived faithful Christian lives, particularly in times of great adversity.

People: Blessed by thy name, O Lord.

Minister: And now to us, O God, to whom thou hast given the responsibility to maintain the divine vision for our city, be pleased to strengthen us in the determination to be true to the heavenly vision and to maintain the devotion and dedication to carry out the vision of our forefathers.

People: We humbly beseech thee, O Lord.

Minister: Save us from petty dissensions, jealous spirits, indifference to duty, and weakness of determination and divided loyalties.

People: We humbly beseech thee, O Lord.

Minister: Raise us up, O God, to new heights of service for thee and country, for Christ and the world, as thou dost call us to be thy servants in this day and age.

People: Blessed be thy name, O Lord, that thy vision from the Holy Spirit is unfailing and the strength through Jesus Christ is supplied for all the tasks before us, Amen.
